MISSION STATEMENT

To provide quality public school options for DC students, families, and communities through:

- A comprehensive application review process
- Effective oversight
- Meaningful support
- Active engagement of its stakeholders

WELCOME!

Dear Parents,

When it comes to education, we know you want the best for your children. And when it comes to public schools, parents in Washington, DC, have some tremendous choices. Like traditional schools run by DC Public Schools, charters are public, tuition-free, and open to all District residents.

Both traditional and public charter schools are committed to quality education. The difference is that traditional schools are run by a central authority—the chancellor of DC Public Schools. In contrast, public charter schools are run by nonprofits, under agreements approved by the DC Public Charter School Board (PCSB).

Public charter schools are located throughout the city and focus on providing quality education. Based on student progress, parent satisfaction, and student achievement, we rate most public charter schools as Tier 1, 2, or 3, with Tier 1 being the best.

Different charters use different approaches to learning. Some use very structured educational environments. Others focus on language immersion, blended learning, Montessori, expeditionary learning, adult education programs, and more.

Please use this book as a guide to find the best school for the students in your family. You can pick the public charter school that meets your family's needs, even if it is located beyond your neighborhood.

Please visit the schools you're interested in, meet the teachers, and stay involved in your child's education.

Sincerely,

John H. "Skip" McKoy
Board Chair,
DC Public Charter
School Board

EARLY CHILDHOOD & ADULT EDUCATION

Early childhood and adult education schools worked with PCSB to develop the academic metrics included in the PMF. The Early Childhood PMF measures student progress and achievement in reading and math. The Adult Education PMF measures program effectiveness by tracking student progress, student achievement, and college and career readiness.

To learn more and see performance results on early childhood and adult education public charter school programs, visit data.dcpcsb.org or dashboard.dcpcsb.org.

ABOUT PMF

The Performance Management Framework (PMF) measures public charter school performance with a single score between 1 to 100 based on several indicators.

TIERS

1

High-Performing
PMF Score =
65.0-100.0%

2

Mid-Performing
PMF Score =
35.0-64.9%

3

Low-Performing
PMF Score =
0.0-34.9%

FOR ELEMENTARY (3-5), MIDDLE (6-8), &
HIGH SCHOOL (9-12) GRADES, THE PMF MEASURES:

STUDENT PROGRESS

Growth on the reading and math state assessments

STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT

Proficient and advanced performance on reading and math state assessments

PARENT SATISFACTION

Based on Re-enrollment

ATTENDANCE

% of students at school each day

FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

- 3rd grade reading proficient and advanced performance on the state assessment

FOR MIDDLE SCHOOL

- 8th grade math proficient and advanced performance on the state assessment

FOR HIGH SCHOOL

- 9th grade credits on track to graduate
- 11th grade PSAT performance
- 12th grade SAT performance
- College acceptance
- Graduation
- Performance on Advanced Placement (AP) and International Baccalaureate (IB) test

HOW DO I FIND A SPACE FOR MY CHILD?

DC public charter schools are public, tuition-free, open to all students, and do not have selective entrance requirements. They offer District families a wide variety of educational choices. They are independent from the traditional public school system. The DC Public Charter School Board oversees, but does not manage, the schools. The Board uses a Performance Management Framework (PMF) to rate a public charter school's academic performance, and places each charter school in one of three performance tiers: Tier 1 (high-performing), Tier 2 (mid-performing), or Tier 3 (low-performing).

Students complete a My School DC application to request space at participating public charter schools.

MY SCHOOL DC

My School DC is a common application and a common lottery for public charter schools and DC Public Schools (DCPS). Starting December 15, families can access the common application at MySchoolDC.org.

For the 2015-16 school year, most DC public charter schools are participating in My School DC.
