BOARD VOTE AND KEY FINDINGS

The District of Columbia Public Charter School Board (DC PCSB) staff conducted a five-year charter review of the BASIS DC Public Charter School (BASIS DC PCS) according to the standard required by the School Reform Act (SRA), D.C. Code §§ 38-1802 et seq.<sup>1</sup>

BASIS DC PCS has adopted the Performance Management Framework (PMF) as its goals and student academic achievement expectations and, as further described below, has met the standard for a five-year review. In addition, the school has neither materially violated the law nor its charter, and is in strong fiscal health. Based on these findings, on November 21, 2016 the DC PCSB Board voted 6 – 0 to continue the school’s charter without conditions.

Goal Attainment

BASIS DC PCS is a single campus, local education agency that adopted the Performance Management Framework (PMF) as its goals and student achievement expectations in 2016. As per the PMF as Goals policy, described below, BASIS PCS met its goals.

After examining the components of BASIS DC PCS’s PMF score, we found that the school’s students consistently outperform their peers in both reading and math achievement as measured by the state assessment. Reading proficiency outcomes across subgroups exceeded the state average over the past four years. Black non-Hispanic students, economically disadvantaged students, and students with disabilities scored notably higher on the Partnership for the Assessment of Readiness for College and Career (PARCC) assessment than the state average.

Year-to-year student growth has been somewhat more uneven, with the school’s Black non-Hispanic and Hispanic students showed below average growth in two of the past three years in reading. Attendance at both the middle and high school consistently exceed charter averages. Re-enrollment rates at the middle school have been just below charter averages at about 80%, and slightly above charter averages in high school at about 85%. Because the school only admits new students in the fifth and sixth grade, this results in steadily declining student counts as one progresses through the grades.

Fiscal Health and Compliance

The school has not materially violated the law, nor its charter. In the school’s first year of operation, there were numerous issues with the school’s delivery of special education services. The school worked closely with DC PCSB to address these and now has a fully compliant well-resourced special education services. In SY2015-16 the percentage of students with disabilities at the school was 4.8% which is well below the charter average of 18.2%. This is perhaps due in part to the rigorous standard for grade promotion.

While financial performance has varied, the January 2016 debt refinance, discussed below, should significantly improve BASIS DC PCS’s financial performance going forward and staff ultimately finds it in financial good standing.

BASIS DC PCS has financial, contractual relationships with two related parties. The first is BASIS Schools, Inc. (BSI), an Arizona non-profit, which is the single corporate member of BASIS DC PCS. BSI owns the BASIS DC PCS facility, which it leases to the school. The school pays rent to BSI in an amount which reimburses BSI’s debt payments related to the school’s facility financing.

The second related party is BASIS Educational Group (BASIS.ed), the for-profit management organization of BASIS DC PCS and all other BASIS schools nationally. BASIS DC PCS has entered into a service agreement with BASIS.ed for management services<sup>2</sup> and to provide “leased employees”<sup>3</sup> to the school. Pursuant to this agreement, BASIS DC PCS makes two types of payments to BASIS.ed: a management fee and reimbursement for “leased employees.” In July 2014 BASIS DC PCS and BASIS.ed revised their management agreement to reduce the management fee from 20% to 10.7% of the school’s operating revenues.<sup>4</sup>

<sup>3</sup> All BASIS DC PCS staff members are employees of BASIS.ed; their salaries and benefits are paid by BASIS DC PCS as pass-through payment for the cost of the employee salaries and benefits.

<sup>4</sup> The revised management agreement excluded site management services which had been previously provided. It also changed the definition of “operating revenues” to exclude investment earnings and grants and donations from operating revenue.

Debt Refinancing

In January 2016, BSI refinanced the debt on BASIS DC PCS's facility, which resulted in a significant reduction in the school's rent expense. BSI refinanced the debt through a public bond offering – issued by the state of Arizona and approved by the Mayor of the District of Columbia with respect to the facility located here – which provided financing for 13 BASIS schools located in Arizona as well as for BASIS DC PCS. Each of the schools benefiting from the financing became part of an "obligated group." By increasing the number of schools liable for the shared debt pool, the obligated group reduces the bondholder's risk of not being repayed; this allowed BSI to receive a significantly reduced interest rate on its debt.

BASIS DC PCS will benefit from lower interest rate expense (as passed through BSI in lower rent) by being a member of the obligated group; estimates of savings are $500,000 or more. The school has, however, assumed some risk of default by the other BASIS schools. If other members of the obligated group were to fail to pay their debt obligations, BASIS DC PCS may be liable for a portion of those schools' debt. The bond issue received a rating from Standard and Poor's of BB. This rating, which is below investment grade, indicates that while BSI has demonstrated the capacity to meet their debt obligations, it is vulnerable to adverse events impacting the solvency of BASIS schools.

As the single corporate member, BSI has all the authority granted in the Non-Profit Corporation Statute regarding the governance and management of BASIS DC PCS. The founding chair of BASIS DC PCS is the Board Chair of BSI. The Executive Director of BASIS DC PCS is an employee of BSI; she describes her role as liaising between the BASIS DC PCS Board and BASIS.ed.

CHARTER REVIEW STANDARD

The SRA provides that DC PCSB "shall review [a school's] charter at least once every [five] years."<sup>5</sup> As part of this review, DC PCSB must determine whether:

- (1) The school committed a material violation of applicable laws or a material violation of the conditions, terms, standards, or procedures set forth in its charter, including violations relating to the education of children with disabilities; and/or

(2) The school failed to meet the goals and student academic achievement expectations set forth in its charter.<sup>6</sup>

If DC PCSB determines that a school has committed a material violation of applicable law, or has not met its goals and expectations, as described above, it may, at its discretion, grant the school a conditional continuance, or revoke the school’s charter. Additionally, there is a fiscal component to the charter review. PCSB is required by the SRA to revoke a school’s charter if DC PCSB determines in its review that the school (1) has engaged in a pattern of non-adherence to generally accepted accounting principles; (2) has engaged in a pattern of fiscal mismanagement; and/or (3) is no longer economically viable.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION ABOUT SCHOOL

School Overview

BASIS DC PCS began operation in 2012 under authorization from DC PCSB. It served grades five to eight during its first year and added a grade each school year. BASIS DC PCS is serving its first twelfth grade class this school year.

Enrollment by Year of Operation
	2012-13	2013-14	2014-15	2015-16	2016-17
Number of Students	443	510	551	599	598
Grade Levels	5-8	5-9	5-10	5-11	5-12

The school’s mission is as follows:

BASIS DC PCS will provide an academically excellent and rigorous liberal arts college preparatory education available to all middle and high school students of the District of Columbia.

BASIS DC PCS is operated by BASIS.ed, which manages “free, open-enrollment public charter schools, tuition-based domestic metro-area private schools, and tuition-based international private schools.”<sup>7</sup> in four states and overseas. Many BASIS schools, particularly in Arizona, have been nationally recognized for their academic quality. This includes three of the top ten schools on US News and World Report’s 2016 Best High School Rankings.

BASIS DC PCS, located in DC’s Theater District, is among the relatively few charter schools attracting students from all eight wards of the city. Indeed the school’s population is among the charter sector’s most diverse. However the school’s low-income, at-risk, at English Learner population are below charter averages.

In February 2016, DC PCSB conducted a Qualitative Site Review<sup>9</sup> (QSR) of BASIS DC PCS. The QSR team used the Charlotte Danielson Framework for Teaching to score observations in two domains: Classroom Environment and Instruction. The review found a respectful and orderly school environment with very high levels of instructional quality. The culture of the classroom and the school itself was bustling but orderly. Students got to class on time and participated enthusiastically in discussions with each other about academic content. In most observations students appeared to have a lot of freedom during class time and handled it maturely, completing their tasks and asking the teachers for assistance when necessary. The respectful school environment is also reflected in the school’s very

<sup>8</sup> The current definition for at-risk of academic failure is based on existing proxy measures that includes students who are homeless, in the District’s foster care system, qualify for Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) or the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), or high school students that are one year older, or more, than the expected age for the grade in which the students are enrolled. low rates of out-of-school suspension and absence of expulsions.<sup>10</sup>

In 2016 the school selected the PMF as its goals and academic achievement expectations, which establishes minimum PMF scores as the school’s goals.<sup>11</sup> The school’s overall performance data on the PMFs – which assess reading and math proficiency, academic growth, attendance, re-enrollment, as well as other measures for high school – are summarized in the table below. The BASIS DC PCS High School received the highest PMF score of any charter school in the District of Columbia.

SECTION ONE: GOALS AND ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT EXPECTATIONS

The SRA requires DC PCSB to review whether a school has met its goals and academic expectations at least once every five years. Goals and expectations are only considered as part of the renewal analysis if they were included in a school’s charter, charter amendment, or accountability plans approved by the DC PCSB Board.

In February 2016, BASIS DC PCS amended its charter to adopt the early childhood/elementary school/middle school (PK3-8) and high school (HS) PMFs as the goals and academic expectations for its middle school and high school campuses, respectively.<sup>12</sup>

The chart below summarizes DC PCSB’s determinations of whether each academic program met its respective goals and academic expectations. These determinations are further detailed in the body of this report.

	Goals and Academic Expectations	Met?
1	BASIS DC PCS will be deemed to have met its middle school goals and expectations at its fifth year review if it earns at least 40% of the possible PMF points on the PK3-8 PMF in two of the most recent three years (two of the most recent four years from the 2014-15 review cycle through the 2018-19 review cycle) preceding the review assessment.	Yes
2	BASIS DC PCS will be deemed to have met its high school goals and expectations at its fifth year review if it earns at least 40% of the possible PMF points on the HS PMF in two of the most recent three years (two of the most recent four years from the 2014-15 review cycle through the 2018-19 review cycle) preceding the review assessment.	Yes

<sup>12</sup> Through the 2017-2018 review cycles, DC PCSB will provide flexibility in the use of the 2014-15 Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC) scores in calculating a school’s PMF score....However, DC PCSB will continue to use non-PARCC-related PMF measures...as well as prior year DC CAS results to determine school performance during a charter review and renewal.

MIDDLE SCHOOL CAMPUS
Fifth through Eighth Grades

Goal: BASIS DC PCS will be deemed to have met its middle school goals and expectations at its fifth year review if it earns at least 50% on the ES/MS PMF in two of the three academic years preceding the review assessment, and not under 45% on the ES/MS PMF for any of the five academic years preceding the assessment.

Assessment: BASIS DC PCS’s middle school campus met its goals and academic expectations. The following table provides an overview of the middle school campus’s PMF performance. The school’s middle school PMF trends are detailed on the following pages. Qualitative evidence observed by DC PCSB as part of its Qualitative Site Review support the strength of this campus’s academic programming. DC charter schools did not receive a score or tier on the 2014-15 PMF, given the District of Columbia’s transition from the DC CAS to the PARCC assessment.

BASIS DC PCS – Middle School PMF Outcomes

The data below are the outcomes included in the school’s 2012-13 through 2015-16 PMFs.

Reading Proficiency

BASIS DC PCS – Middle School’s overall and subgroup reading proficiency was 30 to 50 percentage points above the state average from 2012-13 through 2015-16. In 2014-15, the state switched to the PARCC assessment. To allow schools an opportunity to adjust to the new assessment, 2014-15 PARCC outcomes are not included in charter review analyses regarding goal attainment. Reading proficiency outcomes across subgroups have exceeded the state average over the past four years. Black non-Hispanic students, economically disadvantaged students, and students with disabilities scored notably higher on the PARCC than the state average.<sup>13</sup>

Reading Growth

An MGP (median growth percentile) of 50 indicates that a school's students have average year-to-year growth in reading proficiency, as compared to other DC students in the same grades and with the same initial state assessment performance. BASIS DC PCS – Middle School's reading MGP was 51.4 in 2012-13 and increased to 60.0 in 2014-15. Growth slowed the following year to 49.1.

Female Students	55.3	62.0	51.1

Qualitative Evidence - Literacy

Notes from the Qualitative Site Review of BASIS DC PCS support the quantitative data.

Students extended conversations and interacted with each other about the content without prompting by the teacher. In one observation students initiated conversations about the point of view in a book. The teacher asked students to recall the aspects about the different options for point of view and to cite text to support their examples.

Questioning in many observations was robust and cognitively challenging. Teachers stimulated discussions with open-ended queries. One teacher started by asking students to describe what the two poems have in common and students were able to build on each other’s responses.

Math Proficiency

BASIS DC PCS – Middle School’s overall and subgroup math proficiency was above the state average from 2012-13 through 2015-16. In 2014-15 the state switched to the PARCC assessment. To allow schools an opportunity to adjust to the new assessment, 2014-15 PARCC outcomes are not included in charter review analyses.

BASIS DC PCS – Middle School’s math MGP was below the fiftieth percentile in 2013-14 and rose to 58.0 in 2014-15.

Qualitative Evidence – Math

Notes from the Qualitative Site Review of BASIS DC PCS support the quantitative data:

Teachers organized classwork and discussions to encourage student thinking and understanding of concepts throughout the observations. Teachers assisted students when necessary while giving students ample time and clues to arrive at answers on their own. Teachers asked both high and low-level questions to assess student comprehension. Teacher developed writing and discussion tasks extended student thinking.

Math teachers used various assessment strategies including: asking students to work on a problem and put up one finger if they believe they should add and two fingers to indicate they should subtract; noting students' completion of work on iPads; having students read out the answers to the practice problems and explain how they obtained the answer.

Attendance

BASIS DC PCS – Middle School's in-seat attendance rate has exceeded the state average for the past four years.

Re-enrollment

A school's re-enrollment rate measures family satisfaction with a school by measuring the rate at which students, who are eligible, return from one year's official enrollment audit to the next year's official enrollment audit. Students who move out-of-state or have other situations that would prevent them from re-enrolling are excluded from this rate. BASIS DC PCS – Middle School's re-enrollment rate was above the state after its first year of operation. Since then it has been a few percentage points below the sector average.

HIGH SCHOOL CAMPUS
Ninth through Twelfth Grades

Goal: BASIS DC PCS will be deemed to have met its high school goals and expectations at its fifth year review if it earns at least 40% of the possible PMF points on the HS PMF in two of the most recent three years (two of the most recent four years from the 2014-15 review cycle through the 2018-19 review cycle) preceding the review assessment.

Assessment: BASIS DC PCS’s high school campus met its goals and academic expectations. The below table provides an overview of the high school campus’s PMF performance. DC charter schools did not receive a score on the 2014-15 PMF, given the District of Columbia’s transition from the DC CAS to the PARCC assessment. The school’s high school PMF trends are detailed on the following pages. Qualitative evidence observed by DC PCSB as part of its Qualitative Site Review support the strength of this campus’s academic programming.

BASIS DC PCS – High School PMF Outcomes

The data below includes the outcomes that have been published in the school’s 2012-13 through 2015-16 PMFs. Due to the change in the statewide assessment, High School MGP rates were not available for the 2014-15 and 2015-16 HS PMF. DC PCSB established conditions to ensure the reliability and validity of MGP and these conditions were not met.

Reading Proficiency

BASIS DC PCS – High School’s overall and subgroup reading proficiency was above the state average from 2012-13 through 2015-16. In 2014-15, the state switched to the PARCC assessment. To allow schools an opportunity to adjust to the new assessment, 2014-15 PARCC outcomes are not included in charter review analyses. BASIS DC PCS – High School’s subgroups outperformed the state average in reading proficiency every year.

Qualitative Evidence – Literacy

Notes from the Qualitative Site Review of BASIS DC PCS support the quantitative data:

Most students were actively involved in learning tasks through the observations. Teachers provided time for students to become engaged in the lesson. Teachers also made adjustments to the pacing of the lessons based on student engagement.

In most observations students were highly engaged with the content. Teachers provided a “Do Now” on the board, gave students a chance to complete it, called on students to explain their answers, and then dove into the lesson by projecting new content on an interactive whiteboard. Students took copious notes on the new material. Some teachers gave students choices in completing learning tasks. The fast-paced nature of many classrooms required students to think for themselves, stay engaged, and actively work.

Math Proficiency

BASIS DC PCS – High School’s overall and subgroup math proficiency was above the state average from 2012-13 through 2015-16. In 2014-15 the state switched to the PARCC assessment. BASIS DC PCS chose to administer the Integrated Math II assessment instead of the Geometry assessment. All of the other schools in the District administered the PARCC geometry assessment, therefore, the state comparison is not a true one. BASIS DC PCS explained that it administered the Integrated Math II assessment because of the course sequence. Geometry is taught in two parts. The first half is taught with Algebra 1. The second half of Geometry is taught with Algebra 2.<sup>14</sup>

Math Subgroup Outcomes

Eleven BASIS PCS students took this assessment in 2014-15. Fewer than 10 students took the assessment in 2015-16. DC PCSB does not report data when fewer than ten students are in a subgroup. Therefore we did not publish a table with percentages for subgroups.

Qualitative Evidence – Math

Notes from the Qualitative Site Review of BASIS DC PCS support the quantitative data:

The content level and pacing of the math and science classes appeared to challenge students. Teachers provided time for students to help each other understand problems from the homework. Students also worked in small groups to prepare for math tests and to complete science labs.

High School PMF Metrics

The following table details how DC PCSB measures various high school metrics. BASIS DC PCS served grade 9 through 11 in 2015-16, therefore DC PCSB will not have data for SAT, Advanced Placement/International Baccalaureate/dual enrollment, High School Graduation, or College Acceptance until the end of the 2016-17 school year.

Indicator	Notes
Ninth grade students on track to graduate	DC PCSB calculates the percentage of ninth grade students earning enough credits to be on track to meet OSSE/LEA graduation requirements in four years.
PSAT	DC PCSB calculates the percentage of eleventh grade students scoring a combined score of at least 80 on the PSAT
SAT	DC PCSB calculates the percentage of twelfth grade students scoring at least 800 on the SAT (math plus critical reading score) or 16 on the ACT.
Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB), dual enrollment	DC PCSB calculates this rate by dividing the number of passing AP/IB exams and dual enrollment courses by the number of twelfth grade students.
High School graduation rate	DC PCSB calculates an adjusted cohort graduation rate by dividing the number of graduating seniors by the number of students who started in the cohort's ninth grade class.
College Acceptance	DC PCSB measures the percentage of twelfth grade students accepted in a full-time college program.

Attendance

BASIS DC PCS – High School’s in-seat attendance was below the charter sector rate in 2013-14 and exceeded the charter rate in the following school years.

Re-enrollment

A school’s re-enrollment rate measures family satisfaction with a school by measuring the rate at which students, who are eligible, return from one year’s official enrollment audit to the next year’s official enrollment audit. Students who move out-of-state or have other situations that would prevent them from re-enrolling are excluded from this rate.

BASIS DC PCS – High School’s re-enrollment rate was above the sector average for the last two years.

SECTION TWO: COMPLIANCE WITH CHARTER AND APPLICABLE LAWS

The SRA requires DC PCSB to determine at least once every five years whether a school has “committed a material violation of applicable laws or a material violation of the conditions, terms, standards, or procedures set forth in its charter, including violations relating to the education of children with disabilities.”<sup>15</sup> The SRA contains a non-exhaustive list of applicable laws. DC PCSB monitors charter schools for compliance with additional laws in annual compliance reviews. The table below displays the school’s compliance with various requirements from 2012-13 to the time of this report’s publication.

Compliance Item	Description	School’s Compliance Status 2012-13 to present<sup>16</sup>
Fair enrollment process D.C. Code § 38-1802.06	DC charter schools must have a fair and open enrollment process that randomly selects applicants and does not discriminate against students.	Compliant since 2012-13
Notice and due process for suspensions and expulsions D.C. Code § 38-1802.06(g)	DC charter school discipline policies must afford students due process <sup>17</sup> and the school must distribute such policies to students and parents.	Compliant since 2012-13

Accreditation Status D.C. Code § 38-1802.02(16)	A DC charter school must maintain accreditation from an SRA-approved accrediting body approved by the SRA.	Compliant since 2012-13

Procurement Contracts

D.C. Code § 38-1802.04(c)(1) requires DC charter schools to utilize a competitive bidding process for any procurement contract valued at $25,000 or more, and within three days of awarding such a contract, to submit to DC PCSB all bids received, the contractor selected, and the rationale for which contractor was selected. To ensure compliance with this law, DC PCSB requires schools to submit a "Determinations and Findings" form to detail any qualifying procurement contract that the school has executed.

Because DC PCSB's Submission of Procurement Contracts and Board of Trustees' Meeting Minutes Policy was amended in September 2014, schools were not held accountable to compliance with the policy for 2014-15.

Special Education Compliance

Charter schools are required to comply with all federal and local special education laws, including, among others, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act<sup>19</sup> (IDEA) and section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.<sup>20</sup> The following section summarizes the school's special education compliance from 2012-13 to the present.

DC PCSB staff closely monitored the special education programming of BASIS DC PCS from early 2013-14 school year. This monitoring originated from parent complaints regarding BASIS DC PCS's special education program, discussed in more detail in the July 29, 2013 Board Discussion Item.<sup>21</sup> At its July 29, 2013 Board Meeting, the DC PCSB Board encouraged staff to closely monitor BASIS DC PCS's creation and implementation of an Action Plan<sup>22</sup> for 2013-14. The goal of the Action Plan was to resolve areas of IDEA noncompliance and ensure that BASIS DC PCS was providing a full continuum of services to all students with disabilities; thereby improving the quality of education to all students.

The following year, at its August 18, 2014 Board Meeting, DC PCSB held a one-year follow up to assess the implementation of the Action Plan created by BASIS DC PCS, and found three elements of the action plan outstanding. The DC PCSB Board further recommended that staff monitor BASIS DC PCS for these outstanding areas for one additional school year.

During the 2014-2015 school year, DC PCSB staff conducted three in-person observations at BASIS DC PCS to collect evidence of the implementation of outstanding elements from the school's Special Education Action Plan. The outstanding elements included Inclusive Classroom, Student Study Team (SST) Program and Processes, Modification/Accommodations and Differentiated Instruction for All Learners. Prior to each visit, BASIS DC PCS staff provided a class schedule for each teacher providing specialized instruction to students with disabilities in a push-in and pull-out setting. The school also provided observable modifications and accommodations pursuant to each student's Individualized Education Program (IEP).

During the three visits DC PCSB staff observed the implementation of inclusive classrooms and the provision of students' modifications/accommodations pursuant to their IEP's. Staff observed both special educators, along with general educators, differentiating lessons and providing student-specific supports that enabled students with disabilities access to the general education curriculum. During the second visit a BASIS DC PCS staff member reviewed the extensive improvements made by the school to the SST Program and Process and shared these documents with DC PCSB staff.

Given the improvements to the special education programming and the implementation of the three outstanding areas of BASIS PCS' Special Education Action Plan, the DC PCSB Board voted to end the education specific monitoring on April 21, 2015.

OSSE Special Education Compliance Reviews

The DC Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE) monitors charter schools' special education compliance and publishes three types of reports detailing these findings: (1) Annual Determinations; (2) On-Site Monitoring; and (3) Quarterly Findings (also called Special Conditions Reports). OSSE's findings of the school's special education compliance are summarized below.

(1) Annual Determinations

As required by a federal regulation, OSSE annually analyzes each LEA's compliance with 20 special education compliance indicators, and publishes these findings in an Annual Determination report.<sup>23</sup> Each year's report is based on compliance data collected a few years earlier. OSSE does not require schools to cure any compliance issues detailed in these reports. In 2015, OSSE published its 2013 Annual Determination reports (based on the school's 2013-14 performance). BASIS DC PCS's Annual Determination compliance performance is detailed in the table below.<sup>24</sup> 2014 Annual Determinations had not been published at the time of this review.

Year	Percent compliant with audited special education federal requirements	Determination Level
2012	82%	Meets Requirements
2013	83%	Meets Requirements
2014	93%	Meets Requirements

(2) On-Site Monitoring Report

OSSE periodically conducts an on-site assessment of an LEA’s special education compliance with student-level and LEA-level indicators, and publishes its findings in an On-Site Monitoring Report. Prior to 2013 if a school was less than 95% compliant with a student-level and/or LEA-level indicator, it was required to implement corrections and report these corrections to OSSE. (Beginning in 2013, LEA’s are responsible for being 100% compliant with student-level indicators and LEA-level indicators on On-Site Monitoring Reports.)<sup>25</sup>

In 2015 OSSE published an on-site Compliance Monitoring Report of BASIS DC PCS based on the school’s performance in 2013-14.<sup>26</sup> The school was required to implement corrections in the following areas and have since corrected all identified areas.

<sup>25</sup> If the school were found to be less than 100% compliant with a student-level indicator that could not be cured retroactively, OSSE would identify the point of noncompliance as an LEA-level violation and give the LEA 365 days to cure the finding.

<sup>26</sup> See 2013-14 On-Site Monitoring Report Attachments, attached to this report as Appendix I

- (3) Special Conditions Quarterly Reports
 OSSE submits quarterly reports to the U.S. Department of Education’s Office of Special Education Programs detailing District of Columbia LEAs’ compliance in four areas of timeliness: (1) Initial Evaluation; (2) Reevaluation; (3) Early Childhood Transition (for students entering pre-kindergarten at age 2 and turning 3); and (4) Secondary Transition (for students age 16 and up). BASIS DC PCS is evaluated for its compliance related to timely initial evaluation and reevaluation. Its outcomes in these areas are detailed in the tables below. The school has since cured all of the below findings.

Child Find Focused Monitoring Report

In the Child Find review process, OSSE reviews LEA identification rates twice per school year (Fall/Spring). If an LEA has an identification rate less than half of the District’s average identification rate then the LEA is sent a notification letter. If the LEA is identified again in the second review then OSSE may conduct focused monitoring activities. During SY2014-15, OSSE found that BASIS DC PCS identified 4.09% of its students eligible for special education, which was significantly lower than the District’s 2014-15 identification rate of 14%. The focused monitoring activities included student file reviews, staff interviews and policy reviews. The results of the focused monitoring activities were sent to each LEA’s leader.<sup>27</sup>

OSSE recommended that BASIS DC PCS

1. Provide staff year round professional development opportunities that focus on the special education process.
2. Maintain communication with assigned OSSE LEA monitor to review and/or resolve any special education matters that may arise.

Blackman Jones Implementation Review

With compliance requirements pursuant to IDEA and the 2006 Blackman Jones Consent Decree, OSSE manages and oversees the Blackman Jones database that tracks each LEA’s timely implementation of Hearing Officer Determinations (HODs) and Settlement Agreements (SAs). The chart below shows all special education administrative due process complaints brought against the school since its opening.

<sup>27</sup> Please find the Child Find Focused Monitoring Report for BASIS DC PCS attached as Appendix J

School Year	Date of Case	Result
2013-14	September 2013	HOD issued: Officer found that student was denied a Free Appropriate Public Education (FAPE) and awarded relief
	March 2014	HOD issued: Officer found that student was denied FAPE
	March 2014	SA
	June 2014	Complaint withdrawn
	June 2014	SA
2014-15	March 2015	Complaint withdrawn
2015-16	May 2016	SA

Where an HOD was issued, the case went before a Hearing Officer who made the final determination. Where the complaint resulted in an SA, the parties agreed to a settlement. Where the complaint was withdrawn, the party filing the complaint voluntarily withdrew it before a formal settlement could be reached or a determination could be made by a Hearing Officer. As of August 2016, the Blackman Jones Database shows BASIS PCS had no untimely or outstanding HODs or SAs.

SECTION THREE: FISCAL MANAGEMENT AND ECONOMIC VIABILITY

Introduction

The SRA requires DC PCSB to revoke a school's charter if DC PCSB determines that the school:

- Has engaged in a pattern of non-adherence to generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP);
- Has engaged in a pattern of fiscal mismanagement; and/or
- Is no longer economically viable.<sup>28</sup>

The results of DC PCSB's review of BASIS DC PCS's financial records are presented below.

Summary of Findings

BASIS DC PCS is economically viable, has complied with GAAP, and appears to have a strong internal control environment. Since beginning operations in 2012, the school has increased both enrollment and revenues as it added grades. However, in the first three years of operation, the school had relatively high expense levels, particularly in occupancy expenses, leading to mixed results in both operating earnings and cash flows. Occupancy expenses dropped during the second half of 2016, after BSI refinanced the school's facility debt, as discussed above; these expenses should continue to be lower in future years.

This assessment is based on audited financial statements for fiscal years (FY) 2013 through 2015 and unaudited FY 2016 results. DC PCSB expects to receive the FY 2016 audited financial statements prior to the PCSB Board meeting and will adjust data, if required. We expect that the unaudited results shown here are materially correct. We have referred to all FY 2016 results as "audited" in the discussion below in anticipation of receiving the audited report.

During the school's first three years of operation, BASIS DC PCS's financial results were varied: the school was classified as a High Fiscal Performer in 2013, a Low Fiscal Performer in 2014, and a Moderate Fiscal Performer in 2015. Audited results for 2016 are strong, as both revenues and enrollment continue to grow and expenses have been reduced relative to revenues, due largely to the debt refinancing described above. We are not concerned about the school’s economic viability based on currently available data.

Financial Overview

The following table provides an overview of BASIS DC PCS’s financial information over the school’s first four years of operations. During this period, while enrollment and revenue growth were 38% and 40%, respectively, operating expenses have grown by 35%. The school had relatively low unrestricted cash balances in its first three years of operation. Both cash balances, operating surplus and Net Assets increased significantly in 2016.

Financial Highlights
	2013	2014	2015	2016
Maximum Enrollment <sup>29</sup>	468	511	582	645

Net Asset Position <sup>32</sup>	$320,581	$103,970	$310,293	$1,375,918

<sup>29</sup> Maximum Enrollment represents the largest possible number of students for which the school may receive public funding. It may be higher than the school’s targeted or budgeted enrollment, but provides a good proxy for the school’s enrollment expectations over time.

<sup>31</sup> Cash on hand equals unrestricted cash and cash equivalents divided by total expenditures divided by 360 days. It is a measure of the school’s ability to pay debts and claims as they come due.

Fiscal Management

DC PCSB’s assessment of overall fiscal management considers the school’s liquidity, debt burden, cost management, and internal controls. Together, these factors reflect the effectiveness of school leaders and the school board in managing finances.

In 2014 and 2015, the school’s low cash balances presented risk that the school could be unable to meet unexpected expenses or manage its liabilities in case of delays in cash receipts. BSI’s refinancing of the BASIS DC PCS facility, however, dramatically reduced expenses and improved both liquidity and reserves. The school appears to have a strong internal control environment. These areas are discussed in more detail below.

Liquidity

Liquidity refers to the school’s ability to meet its financial obligations, particularly in the short term. Too few assets or insufficient cash to pay vendors and/or creditors is a cause for concern and threatens the school’s viability. Two indicators of a school’s liquidity are its current ratio and its days of cash on hand. The current ratio is indicative of a school’s ability to satisfy its immediate financial obligations.<sup>34</sup> When the current ratio is less than one, the risk that the school may be unable to meet its short-term obligations increases.

While BASIS DC PCS’s current ratio has varied over the last four years, it fell below 1 in only one year and has otherwise remained over 1, indicating that the school’s short-term liquidity is adequate. Moreover, liquidity measures improved dramatically in 2016. The school’s cash on hand declined from 32 days in 2013, to just 15 days in 2014 and 2015, below DC PCSB’s Indicator of Concern, before rising to 67 days in 2016. The school’s current measures of liquidity indicates that the school should be able to meet short-term obligations.

Liquidity
	Indicator of Concern	2013	2014	2015	2016
Current Ratio	<0.5	1.4	0.9	1.4	8.6
Number of Days of Cash on Hand	<30	32	15	15	67

A final measure of liquidity is solvency<sup>35</sup>, the school’s ability to pay outstanding obligations, including amounts due to vendors, employees and lenders, in the event that the school’s charter is revoked. DC PCSB reviewed BASIS DC PCS’s 2016 audited financial statements to determine the risk to third parties in the event of school closure. Should the DC PCSB Board vote to close BASIS DC PCS, we expect that the school would be able to meet its operating obligations and the costs of closure. Excluding closure costs, the school would have approximately $1,000,000 in cash remaining after discharging all liabilities indicating little risk to third parties in the event of closure.

Debt Burden

As part of the evaluation of a school’s long-term viability, DC PCSB considers a school’s debt burden. In particular, DC PCSB reviews two debt ratios – the debt ratio<sup>36</sup> and the modified debt service<sup>37</sup> ratio. A debt ratio measures the sustainability of debt payments. The modified debt service ratio, as introduced in FY14, includes not only debt, but interest and rent obligations. A ratio greater than 15% is a cause for concern.

<sup>35</sup> Except when the school owns a facility, solvency equals current assets plus receivables with a high probability of collection, minus liabilities and closure expenses.

<sup>37</sup> Modified Debt Service Ratio equals the sum of the current portion of long-term debt, interest, and rent divided by the total revenues.

While the school’s modified debt ratio was of concern in 2014 and 2015, the refinancing of BSI debt, and related reduction in BASIS DC PCS’s lease expense has significantly increased the ability of the school to meet its lease obligations. To the extent that the refinancing occurred in January of 2016 (i.e., halfway through the school year), ability to service debt and fixed obligations is expected to further improve in FY 2017.

Debt Burden
	Indicator of Concern	2013	2014	2015	2016
Debt Ratio	>0.92	0.63	0.89	0.54	0.21

Cost Management

The below table provides an overview of the school’s spending decisions over the past three years. Prior to the BSI refinancing, the growth of BASIS DC PCS’s expenses was in excess of the growth of both enrollment and revenues. Reduced occupancy expenses in 2016, however, brought the growth rate of revenues and expenses to comparable levels as averaged over the four year period

BASIS DC PCS has contracted with BAIS educational Group (BASIS.ed), a for profit management company which provides management services to BASIS DC PCS and to all other BASIS schools nationally. In July of 2014 BASIS DC PCS and BASIS.ed revised their management agreement to reduce the management fee from 20% of 10.7% of the schools operating revenue. As a result, the management fee declined from $1.5 million in 2014 to $977,000 in 2016.

The school has engaged an independent auditor to assess the reasonableness of the management fee paid to BASIS.ed. This study used three methodologies: (1) a “market approach” which estimated an “implied” management fee for the costs incurred by other DC public charter schools for similar services; (2) a “cost approach” which compared BASIS DC PCS’s management fees to the management fees of other BASIS.ed-managed schools; and (3) a “cost approach” which considered the costs that would be incurred by BASIS DC PCS to replicate the services provided under the management agreement. The report concluded that fees were reasonable based on the first two methodologies for calculating the appropriate management fee; in the third methodology, the auditor found that the management fee exceeded the estimated costs to replicate the services provided by BASIS.ed.

The school’s building, located at 410-418 Eighth Street NW, is owned by BASIS Schools Inc. (BSI), a separate non-profit entity which is the single corporate member of BASIS DC PCS. Occupancy expenses grew to nearly 30% of revenue in 2014, before declining to 16% in 2016 as a result of the bond refinancing. The school will continue to benefit from the favorable refinancing, assuming no additional obligations are triggered as a member of the obligated group.

The school also makes certain purchases of goods and services through BASIS.ed in the form of “pass-through payments,” including the salaries of the school’s staff. The school and BASIS.ed engage an independent auditor to conduct Agreed-Upon Procedures (AUP) reviews to ensure payments to BASIS.ed are appropriate. Through the most recent AUP review, the auditor found that the pass-through payments were in accordance with the agreed-upon procedures, and that the expenses were reimbursed by BASIS DC PCS at cost, without additional fees paid to BASIS.ed. DC PCSB staff recommends that verification of agreed-upon procedures for pass-through payments be completed each year.

Internal Controls

At the highest level, internal control processes assure achievement of an organization's objectives in operational effectiveness and efficiency, reliable financial reporting, and compliance with laws, regulations and policies.

Audits of BASIS DC PCS establish that the school has adhered to GAAP. Unqualified audit opinions were provided FY 2013 through FY 2015 and there were no material weaknesses or other findings identified. BASIS DC PCS appears to have a strong internal control environment.

Internal Controls
	Audit Year
	2013	2014	2015
Qualified Statement Opinion. The auditor issues an opinion letter on the basic financial statements. An unmodified or unqualified opinion means the auditor is satisfied professionally that the statements present fairly the financial position of the school and the results of operations. Statement Material Weakness. A material weakness is a deficiency in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the school's financial statements will not be prevented or will not be detected and corrected in a timely manner.	No	No	No
Statement Non-Compliance. The auditor tests for compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements. Non-compliance could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts.	No	No	No

Economic Viability

Measures of economic sustainability include earnings and cash flows, reserve, and trends in both enrollment and revenue. Together, these measures assess the risk that the school will be unable to continue operations. The first set of indicators address earnings and cash flow, specifically the school’s “operating result” – how much its total annual revenues exceed its total annual expenditures—and earnings before depreciation (EBAD).<sup>40</sup> In general, DC PCSB recommends that a school have positive annual operating results and cash flows.

Based on these measures, BASIS DC PCS’ performance has been mixed: positive in 2013, negative in 2014, and positive again in 2015. In 2016, these metrics improved as a result of the bond refinancing, significantly improving the school’s economic viability.

Operating Results
	Indicator of Concern	2013	2014	2015	2016
Operating Surplus/Deficit	<0	$394,610	($216,611)	$206,323	$1,181,539
Earnings before Depreciation	<0	$444,542	($138,312)	$329,323	$1,065,849

<sup>40</sup> EBAD is the change in net assets plus amortization and depreciation, a measure of operating cash flows.

Additional measures of economic viability include the school’s net asset position and primary reserve ratio. DC PCSB would be concerned with net asset reserves below zero, and recommends that schools accrue reserves equal to 25% to 50% of operating expenditures.

After declining in 2015 to just over $100,000, BASIS DC PCS’s net asset position increased to nearly $1.4 million in 2016. Similarly, the primary reserve ratio which fell to 0.01 in 2015, increased to 0.17 in 2016. Lower net assets and reserve levels are not unusual in the early years of operations and these measures improved significantly in 2016, due largely to the impact of the bond financing.

Assets and Reserves
	Indicator of Concern	2013	2014	2015	2016
Net Asset Position	<0	$320,581	$103,970	$310,293	$1,375,918
Primary Reserve Ratio	<0.00	0.05	0.01	0.04	0.17

The final measures of economic viability are trends in enrollment and revenues. Enrollment trends provide information about the school’s ability to attract students and receive DC and Federal funds for operations. Stable or growing enrollment and revenue indicates that the school is likely to continue to attract students, barring any extraordinary circumstances. Declining enrollment, however, may be cause for concern.

BASIS DC PCS’s growth in enrollment and revenues indicate that it is likely that the school will be able to attract students and continue to serve the community.

Dear Dr. Barrett:

The District of Columbia Public Charter School Board (DC PCSB) conducts Qualitative Site Reviews to gather and document evidence to support school oversight. According to the School Reform Act § 38-1802.11, DC PCSB shall monitor the progress of each school in meeting the goals and student academic achievement expectations specified in the school's charter. Your school was selected to undergo a Qualitative Site Review during the 2015-16 school year for the following reason:

- School eligible for 5-year Charter Review during 2016-17 school year

Qualitative Site Review Report

A Qualitative Site Review team conducted on-site reviews of BASIS DC PCS between February 22 and March 4, 2016. Enclosed is the team's report. You will find that the Qualitative Site Review Report focuses primarily on the following areas: charter mission and goals, classroom environments, and instructional delivery.

We appreciate the assistance and hospitality that you and your staff gave the monitoring team in conducting the Qualitative Site Review at BASIS DC PCS.

Sincerely,

Qualitative Site Review Report

Date: May 11, 2016

Campus Name: BASIS DC Public Charter School

Ward: 2

Grade levels: 5 - 12

Total enrollment: 599

Students with Disabilities enrollment: 24

English Language Learners enrollment: 4

Reason for visit: Review in SY 2016-17

Two-week window: February 22 – March 4, 2016

Number of observations: 37

Summary

BASIS DC Public Charter School (BASIS DC PCS) is designed to provide a demanding college preparatory education and is focused on high academic achievement. The school's mission is as follows: BASIS DC PCS will provide an academically excellent and rigorous liberal arts college preparatory education available to all middle and high school students of the District of Columbia. The Qualitative Site Review (QSR) team used the Charlotte Danielson Framework for Teaching to score observations in two domains: Classroom Environment and Instruction (attached as Appendix I).

In the Classroom Environment domain, the QSR team scored 79% of the observations as distinguished or proficient. The QSR team scored 83% of the observations as distinguished or proficient in two components: (1) Creating an Environment of Respect and Rapport and (2) Managing Classroom Procedures. Students and teachers generally showed respect in their actions and words. Teachers successfully responded to the few instances of disrespect. Teachers also managed classrooms through established routines, appropriate pacing of lessons, and various groupings for class instruction.

In the Instruction domain, the QSR team scored 84% of the observations as distinguished or proficient. The QSR team scored an impressive 97% of the observations as distinguished or proficient in the Communicating with Students component. Teachers gave clear purposes for learning, provided clear directions, and delivered content with detailed explanations and examples. In many observations teachers explained what students should do or look for during an assigned task.

In addition to observing general education classrooms and students, the QSR team includes reviewers with expertise in special education and English language acquisition. These specialists take a close look at the school's instruction with these populations. While their ratings are included in the overall school's performance, descriptions of their findings are below:

Specialized Instruction for Students with Disabilities

BASIS DC PCS indicated on the special education questionnaire that it offers special education services through a range of services from full inclusion to pull-out instruction, and so this is what the observers expected to see. The SPED observer on the QSR team saw both types of instruction. SPED teachers met with students before and after school to prepare students for their upcoming classes. They checked and corrected homework, clarified misconceptions, and quizzed students to help them prepare for assessments. Some SPED teachers were scheduled to monitor student progress in all subject areas, often sitting in close proximity to two or three students to provide support in inclusive classrooms. SPED teachers provided modifications and accommodations to students by reading aloud passages, assisting students with annotating reading selections, and coaching students to reread texts for revision. They also collected data on students in general education classrooms and referred to it when providing supplemental instruction in pull-out settings. SPED teachers checked agenda books and advised students on time management and organization of tasks. Students sometimes asked for assistance in additional subjects.

Instruction for English Language Learners

Prior to the two-week window, BASIS DC PCS submitted answers to a questionnaire related to the school's provision of services for the school's English Language Learner (ELL) population. The school explained that it has a tiered system of support for ELLs. Support is differentiated depending on the student's level of proficiency indicated by the WIDA ACCESS for ELLs assessment. The three levels are: intensive, for students who score between a Level 1 and a Level 4 on the assessment; monitoring, for students who score a Level 4 or a Level 5 on the assessment; and consult support for students who are ELLs who score above a Level 5. The school explained that its ELL support model uses elements of Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE). According to the school, these elements include: the use of visuals, sketches, gestures, and non-verbal clues to make language accessible; regular checks for understanding; slow and clear speech with adequate wait time for students to respond; and modeling of learning tasks and sharing thought processes out loud.

During the two-week window, the ELL specialist on the QRS team attended a class with push-in ELL support and a one-on-one session between the ELL teacher and an ELL student. While the specialist did not see evidence of the elements of SDAIE that the school referenced in its ELL questionnaire, including the use of of visuals, gestures, or non-verbal cues in the push-in and pull-out sessions, the student increasingly participated in the classroom discussion by answering questions and responding to writing prompts as the ELL teacher provided support. The support provided by the ELL teacher (including regular checks for understanding, slow and clear language and further explanations of the general educator's instruction) appeared to be effective in enhancing the student's comprehension of the content and his language development. During the push-in session, the ELL teacher asked comprehension questions and provided explanations of vocabulary words. During a class discussion the ELL teacher explained the general education teacher's question to the student.

CHARTER MISSION, GOALS, AND ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT EXPECTATIONS

This table summarizes BASIS DC’s goals and academic achievement expectations as detailed in its charter and subsequent Accountability Plans, and the evidence that the Qualitative Site Review (QSR) team observed of the school meeting those goals during the Qualitative Site Visit.

Mission and Goals	Evidence
Mission: BASIS DC will provide an academically excellent and rigorous liberal arts college preparatory education available to all middle and high school students of the District of Columbia.	There is evidence that BASIS DC PCS is meeting its mission. BASIS DC PCS offers coursework in literature, science, mathematics, and social studies which aligns with providing a liberal arts college preparatory education. Expectations of students were universally high. The classrooms were cognitively busy places. Teachers facilitated discussions and worked through new content with students. Students were eager to share their knowledge and did not hesitate to ask questions about new material.
Goals:
PMF Goal #1: Student Progress – Academic Improvement over time	Teachers organized classwork and discussions to encourage student thinking and understanding of concepts throughout the observations. Teachers assisted students when necessary while giving students ample time and clues to arrive at answers on their own. Teachers asked both high and low-level questions to assess student comprehension. Teachers developed writing and discussion tasks extended student thinking. The content level and pacing of the math and science classes appeared to challenge students. Teachers provided time for students to help each other understand problems from the homework. Students also worked in small groups to prepare for math tests and to complete science labs.
PMF Goal #2: Student Achievement – Meeting or exceeding academic standards	Teachers reviewed concepts with students. Teachers and students used rich vocabulary while engaging in open-ended discussions about subjects in multiple content areas. Students agreed and disagreed with other students in a respectful manner during class discussions. Teachers provided criteria for high-quality work to ensure that students knew what was expected of them.

Mission and Goals	Evidence
PMF Goal # 3: Gateway – Outcomes in key subjects that predict future educational success	The culture of the classroom and the school itself was bustling but orderly. Students got to class on time and participated enthusiastically in discussions with each other about academic content. In most observations students appeared to have a lot of freedom during class time and handled it maturely, completing their tasks and asking the teachers for assistance when necessary. DC PCSB will evaluate quantitative data to assess if the school met this goal during the 5-year review process.
PMF Goal #4: Leading Indicators – Predictors of future student progress and achievement	All of the classrooms were filled with students and there were very few empty desks. DC PCSB will evaluate quantitative data to assess if the school met this goal during the 5-year review process.
Governance:	A DC PCSB staff member attended the BASIS DC PCS Board of Trustees meeting on March 15, 2016. A quorum was present. Several members from the BASIS headquarters also participated via conference call. The board discussed the school’s mission statement, enrollment ceiling, and the school budget. The CEO shared a quarterly management report with an overview of the school’s comprehensive exam rates as compared to other BASIS charter schools across the country and 2014-15 PARCC results. The principal provided an update on community outreach efforts, professional development strategies for staff and an update on the current student enrollment.

THE CLASSROOM ENVIRONMENT<sup>1</sup>

This table summarizes the school’s performance on the Classroom Environment domain of the rubric. The label definitions for classroom observations of “distinguished,” “proficient,” “basic,” and “unsatisfactory” are those from the Danielson framework. The QSR team scored 79% of observations as “distinguished” or “proficient” for the Classroom Environment domain.

The Classroom Environment	Evidence	School Wide Rating
Creating an Environment of Respect and Rapport	The QSR team scored 83% of the observations as distinguished or proficient in this component. Student and teacher interactions were respectful across these observations. Teachers and students talked about their lives outside of school. Some teachers used endearing terms for students. Students showed respect for teachers during instruction and easily quieted down when teachers asked them to lower their voices.	Distinguished	14%
		Proficient	69%
	The QSR team rated 11% of the observations as basic in this component. In one observation students continued to interrupt each other. The teacher attempted to stop the disrespectful behavior but was unsuccessful.	Basic	11%
	The QSR team rated less than 10% of the observations as unsatisfactory in this component.	Unsatisfactory	6%
Establishing a Culture for Learning	The QSR team scored 69% of the observations as distinguished or proficient in this component. In the distinguished observations students and teachers demonstrated keen interest in the academic work. Through lively discussion about the academic topics and detailed questions. Teachers made connections to the material with real-life experiences. In one observation where students were observing cells and identifying different stages of mitosis, the teacher told the	Distinguished	16%

	students about working in a lab as a scientist where she did similar work. In most observations teachers communicated the importance of the content and expressed interest in what they were teaching. Students put forth high levels of effort in their work, and teachers consistently showed high regard for students' abilities through direct praise, asking students probing questions instead of giving them the answer, and asking students to explain content to each other. Teachers expected students to participate in the lessons and would circulate the classroom or speak directly to a student to ensure they were on task.	Proficient	53%
	The QSR team scored 31% of the observations as basic in this component. Some teachers moved from one worksheet to another without discussing the content. In a few observations teachers did not encourage the students or hold them to high expectations. Some students displayed low effort and interest in the learning tasks and were not redirected by the teacher.	Basic	31%
	The QSR team rated none of the observations as unsatisfactory in this component.	Unsatisfactory	0%
Managing Classroom Procedures	The QSR team rated 83% of the observations as distinguished or proficient. Teachers ensured that all students had the necessary materials to complete classroom assignments. Students participated in well-established routines and did not need any direction from the teacher. In multiple math observations, students told the teacher which homework problems they needed explained and the teachers wrote down the numbers on the board. The teachers asked for student volunteers to put the solutions on the board. Students who needed help could then go up to the board and discuss the work with the student who provided the solution.	Distinguished	8%
	Students transitioned easily between the "Do Nows" and whole group discussions. Teachers made use of timers and word prompts to transition the students from one part of the lesson to the next. Students easily collected and distributed materials when needed.	Proficient	75%

The Classroom Environment	Evidence	School Wide Rating
	The QSR team scored 14% of the observations as basic in this component. In a few observations transitions were not timely and led to loss of instructional time.	Basic	14%
	The QSR team rated less than 10% of the observations as unsatisfactory in this component.	Unsatisfactory	3%
Managing Student Behavior	The QSR team scored 80% of the observations as distinguished or proficient in this component. In these observations student behavior was respectful and compliant with the posted classroom rules. Teachers monitored student behavior by visiting each small group work while the students worked.	Distinguished	16%
	Teachers also managed the classroom by walking over to students and quietly correcting their behavior. In one observation where students were getting a little loud at the end of class, a teacher said, "I'll wait for you and then we can be dismissed." The students promptly quieted down and were dismissed.	Proficient	64%
	The QSR team rated 17% of the observations as basic in this component. A teacher in one observation was inconsistent in addressing student behavior. Some students continued to engage in loud talking and side bar conversations during the lesson after the teacher asked the students to stop talking and pay attention.  In another observation students remained noisy after the teacher asked them to quiet down. The teacher counted to ten and the students still continued to disrupt the class.	Basic	17%
	The QSR team rated less than 10% of the observations as unsatisfactory in this component.	Unsatisfactory	3%

INSTRUCTION

This table summarizes the school’s performance on the Instruction domain of the rubric. The label definitions for classroom observations of “distinguished,” “proficient,” “basic,” and “unsatisfactory” are those from the Danielson framework. The QSR team scored 84% of the observations as “distinguished” or “proficient” in the Instruction domain.

Instruction	Evidence Observed	School Wide Rating
Communicating with Students	The QSR team scored 97% of the observations as distinguished or proficient in this component. Teachers provided clear and concise explanations of academic material and directions. Students and teachers used sophisticated and descriptive vocabulary while explaining concepts and students appeared to understand the presentations. Lessons were purposeful with clear learning objectives and student expectations. One teacher explained, “Today is all about thinking about the concept of titration, and tomorrow will be all about the calculation of titration.” Teachers and students discussed strategies for learning the content. Teachers engaged students in the explanation of the material by working through examples of the subject matter. Most students in these classes showed that they understood the teacher’s explanation of the content by beginning to work through the content or ask clarifying questions.	Distinguished	19%
		Proficient	78%
	The QSR team rated less than 10% of the observations as basic in this component.	Basic	3%
	The QSR team rated none of the observations as unsatisfactory in this component.	Unsatisfactory	0%
Using Questioning/Prompts and Discussion Techniques	The QSR team scored 80% of the observations as distinguished or proficient in this component. Some students extended conversations and interacted with each other about the content without prompting by the teacher. In one observation students initiated conversations about the point of view in a book. The teacher asked	Distinguished	14%

Instruction	Evidence Observed	School Wide Rating
	students to recall the aspects about the different options for point of view and to cite text to support their examples. Questioning in many observations was robust and cognitively challenging. Teachers stimulated discussions with open-ended queries. One teacher started by asking students to describe what the two poems have in common and students were able to build on each other's responses.	Proficient	66%
	The QSR team rated 20% of the observations as basic in this component. In a few observations students who did not raise their hands were not involved in the discussions. Some teachers led reviews of worksheet answers with single path responses. In some observations the teacher did not provide opportunities for critical questioning and discussion about the material.	Basic	20%
	The QSR team rated none of the observations as unsatisfactory in this component.	Unsatisfactory	0%
Engaging Students in Learning	The QSR team scored 75% of the observations as distinguished or proficient in this component. Most students were actively involved in learning tasks through the observations. Teachers provided time for students to become engaged in the lesson. Teachers also made adjustments to the pacing of the lessons based on student engagement.	Distinguished	11%
	In most observations students were highly engaged with the content. Teachers provided a "Do Now" on the board, gave students a chance to complete it, called on students to explain their answers, and then dove into the lesson by projecting new content on an interactive whiteboard. Students took copious notes on the new material. Some teachers gave students choices in completing learning tasks. The fast-paced nature of many classrooms required students to think for themselves, stay engaged, and actively work.	Proficient	64%

Instruction	Evidence Observed	School Wide Rating
	The QSR team scored 25% of the observations as basic in this component. In some observations students provided very short responses, and at times some students were not engaged in the lesson. Students were either doing their homework or talking to each other. In one observation the pacing of the class was too fast and not all students were engaged in the activity. The teacher gave students one minute to practice what they had learned on their own before students had to pack up to go to the next class.	Basic	25%
	The QSR team rated none of the observations as unsatisfactory in this component.	Unsatisfactory	0%
Using Assessment in Instruction	The QSR team scored 83% of the observations as distinguished or proficient in this component. In most observations teachers checked for understanding by engaging students in conversation by asking questions. Teachers circulated the classroom and walked over to students who raised their hands. In some observations teachers intentionally waited to call on students who needed additional help and would not call on the first student who raised his/her hand.	Distinguished	9%
	Math teachers used various assessment strategies including: asking students to work on a problem and put up one finger if they believe they should add and two fingers to indicate they should subtract; noting students' completion of work on iPads; having students read out the answers to the practice problems and explain how they obtained the answer.	Proficient	74%

	The QSR team scored 17% of the observations as basic in this component. Some teachers used single methods to monitor student progress. In some observations teacher feedback was restricted to passing out tickets for single right answers.	Basic	17%
	The QSR team rated none of the observations as unsatisfactory in this component.	Unsatisfactory	0%

APPENDIX I: THE CLASSROOM ENVIRONMENT OBSERVATION RUBRIC

The Classroom Environment	Unsatisfactory	Basic	Proficient	Distinguished
Creating an Environment of Respect and Rapport	Classroom interactions, both between the teacher and students and among students, are negative or inappropriate and characterized by sarcasm, putdowns, or conflict.	Classroom interactions are generally appropriate and free from conflict but may be characterized by occasional displays of insensitivity.	Classroom interactions reflect general warmth and caring, and are respectful of the cultural and developmental differences among groups of students.	Classroom interactions are highly respectful, reflecting genuine warmth and caring toward individuals. Students themselves ensure maintenance of high levels of civility among member of the class.
Establishing a Culture for Learning	The classroom does not represent a culture for learning and is characterized by low teacher commitment to the subject, low expectations for student achievement, and little student pride in work.	The classroom environment reflects only a minimal culture for learning, with only modest or inconsistent expectations for student achievement, little teacher commitment to the subject, and little student pride in work. Both teacher and students are performing at the minimal level to “get by.”	The classroom environment represents a genuine culture for learning, with commitment to the subject on the part of both teacher and students, high expectations for student achievement, and student pride in work.	Students assumes much of the responsibility for establishing a culture for learning in the classroom by taking pride in their work, initiating improvements to their products, and holding the work to the highest standard. Teacher demonstrates as passionate commitment to the subject.
Managing Classroom Procedures	Classroom routines and procedures are either nonexistent or inefficient, resulting in the loss of much instruction time.	Classroom routines and procedures have been established but function unevenly or inconsistently, with some loss of instruction time.	Classroom routines and procedures have been established and function smoothly for the most part, with little loss of instruction time.	Classroom routines and procedures are seamless in their operation, and students assume considerable responsibility for their smooth functioning.

The Classroom Environment	Unsatisfactory	Basic	Proficient	Distinguished
Managing Student Behavior	Student behavior is poor, with no clear expectations, no monitoring of student behavior, and inappropriate response to student misbehavior.	Teacher makes an effort to establish standards of conduct for students, monitor student behavior, and respond to student misbehavior, but these efforts are not always successful.	Teacher is aware of student behavior, has established clear standards of conduct, and responds to student misbehavior in ways that are appropriate and respectful of the students.	Student behavior is entirely appropriate, with evidence of student participation in setting expectations and monitoring behavior. Teacher's monitoring of student behavior is subtle and preventive, and teachers' response to student misbehavior is sensitive to individual student needs.

APPENDIX II: INSTRUCTION OBSERVATION RUBRIC

Instruction	Unsatisfactory	Basic	Proficient	Distinguished
Communicating with Students	Teacher’s oral and written communication contains errors or is unclear or inappropriate to students. Teacher’s purpose in a lesson or unit is unclear to students. Teacher’s explanation of the content is unclear or confusing or uses inappropriate language.	Teacher’s oral and written communication contains no errors, but may not be completely appropriate or may require further explanations to avoid confusion. Teacher attempts to explain the instructional purpose, with limited success. Teacher’s explanation of the content is uneven; some is done skillfully, but other portions are difficult to follow.	Teacher communicates clearly and accurately to students both orally and in writing. Teacher’s purpose for the lesson or unit is clear, including where it is situated within broader learning. Teacher’s explanation of content is appropriate and connects with students’ knowledge and experience.	Teacher’s oral and written communication is clear and expressive, anticipating possible student misconceptions. Makes the purpose of the lesson or unit clear, including where it is situated within broader learning, linking purpose to student interests. Explanation of content is imaginative, and connects with students’ knowledge and experience. Students contribute to explaining concepts to their peers.
Using Questioning and Discussion Techniques	Teacher makes poor use of questioning and discussion techniques, with low-level questions, limited student participation, and little true discussion.	Teacher’s use of questioning and discussion techniques is uneven with some high-level question; attempts at true discussion; moderate student participation.	Teacher’s use of questioning and discussion techniques reflects high-level questions, true discussion, and full participation by all students.	Students formulate many of the high-level questions and assume responsibility for the participation of all students in the discussion.
Engaging Students in Learning	Students are not at all intellectually engaged in significant learning, as a result of inappropriate activities or materials, poor representations of content, or lack of lesson structure.	Students are intellectually engaged only partially, resulting from activities or materials or uneven quality, inconsistent representation of content or uneven structure of pacing.	Students are intellectually engaged throughout the lesson, with appropriate activities and materials, instructive representations of content, and suitable structure and pacing of the lesson.	Students are highly engaged throughout the lesson and make material contribution to the representation of content, the activities, and the materials. The structure and pacing of the lesson allow for student reflection and closure.

Instruction	Unsatisfactory	Basic	Proficient	Distinguished
Using Assessment in Instruction	Students are unaware of criteria and performance standards by which their work will be evaluated, and do not engage in self-assessment or monitoring. Teacher does not monitor student learning in the curriculum, and feedback to students is of poor quality and in an untimely manner.	Students know some of the criteria and performance standards by which their work will be evaluated, and occasionally assess the quality of their own work against the assessment criteria and performance standards. Teacher monitors the progress of the class as a whole but elicits no diagnostic information; feedback to students is uneven and inconsistent in its timeliness.	Students are fully aware of the criteria and performance standards by which their work will be evaluated, and frequently assess and monitor the quality of their own work against the assessment criteria and performance standards. Teacher monitors the progress of groups of students in the curriculum, making limited use of diagnostic prompts to elicit information; feedback is timely, consistent, and of high quality.	Students are fully aware of the criteria and standards by which their work will be evaluated, have contributed to the development of the criteria, frequently assess and monitor the quality of their own work against the assessment criteria and performance standards, and make active use of that information in their learning. Teacher actively and systematically elicits diagnostic information from individual students regarding understanding and monitors progress of individual students; feedback is timely, high quality, and students use feedback in their learning.

Score Explanations

For schools serving pre-kindergarten (PK) through 8th grades, DC PCSB has implemented a new Early Childhood/Elementary School/Middle School Performance Management Framework (PMF) to assess academic performance school-wide. The framework now includes data for students in all grades at the school for multiple measures.

Starting in the spring of 2015, all students in grades 3 and higher, participated in the Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC).

For schools serving grades PK-12, DC PCSB uses the Performance Management Framework (PMF) to assess school-wide academic performance. Schools are rated by tiers: Tier 1 schools meet standards of high performance; Tier 2 schools fall short of high performance standards but meet minimum overall performance standards; and Tier 3 schools fall significantly short of high performance standards, showing inadequate performance. * Due to the change in the state assessment, DC PCSB did not score or tier in 2014-15. Growth data was unavailable in 2014-15 and 2015-16.

A Note from the School

BASIS DC PCS was founded on the belief that every child deserves a world-class education. The BASIS DC school culture makes high academic achievement and intellectual engagement the norm and allows students to realize and fulfill their great academic potential. This approach instills in students a lifelong love and respect for knowledge and an understanding of the importance of hard work and self-reliance as a path toward success. Our rigorous, college preparatory education equips students for the competitive college admissions process, helps them become eligible for scholarships, prepares them to thrive at top colleges, and enriches their lives.

2012-13 Equity Report

What are Equity Reports? The Deputy Mayor for Education, the Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE), DC Public Schools (DCPS), the DC Public Charter School Board (PCSB) and NewSchools Venture Fund have partnered to create the city's first Equity Reports. Equity Reports are a complement to OSSE's School Report Cards, DCPS' School Scorecards and PCSB's Performance Management Framework.

The first step in ensuring equity is making the data transparent and comparable. This report is meant to make schools, parents and the larger community aware of metrics related to equity that exist across DC schools.

Equity, when used in education, refers to all students receiving the same caliber of education regardless of the neighborhood they live in or their demographic characteristics, such as their race, ethnicity, special education status or other factors.

How are attendance and absences calculated?

In-seat attendance measures the average percent of students in the classroom on a given day. Education agencies in the District of Columbia calculate a number of different absence statistics. This in-seat attendance rate enables a close, but not perfect, comparison of daily attendance between DCPS and public charter schools.

Unexcused Absences (%)

DISCIPLINE

Defining discipline. The suspension rates show the percent of students receiving an out-of-school suspension. Any student suspended out-of-school for at least one day is counted on the left, and any student receiving at least one long-term suspension (11+ days) is counted on the right. Subgroup results show the percent of students in that subgroup receiving a suspension.

APPENDIX

Student Characteristics

Every fall, OSSE counts the number of students present in every public and public charter school. This enrollment audit provides us with a snapshot of the student body, including the total number of students enrolled and their characteristics. The subgroups that are shown here were identified as of particular importance when considering issues of equity, and they will appear throughout this report. This school's total enrollment was identified using the October 7, 2013 audited enrollment data file.

DCPS enrollment information, including race/ethnicity, gender, English Language Learner (ELL) and economically disadvantaged enrollment is determined using the audited enrollment file. DCPS schools that have been certified for the Community Eligibility Provision, which allows all students at that school to receive lunch meals at no charge, are listed as 99% economically disadvantaged. All other DCPS schools' economically disadvantaged rates are calculated using the end-of-year enrollment file.

Charter school enrollment information, including race/ethnicity, gender and economically disadvantaged enrollment is determined using the audited enrollment file. English Language Learner (ELL) enrollment for charter schools is determined using the audited enrollment file. Students aged 22 or older who are enrolled in English as a Second Language classes may also be considered to be ELL students by individual public charter schools; however, schools do not receive additional funding for such students and these enrollments not reflected here. Charter schools that have been certified for the Community Eligibility Provision, which allows all students at that school to receive lunch meals at no charge, are listed as 99% economically disadvantaged.

For both DCPS and public charter schools, Special Education enrollment is determined using the 2013-2014 Special Education Child Count file and the October 7, 2013 audited enrollment file. The total number of Child Count Special Education students, counting students with Individualized Education Programs (IEPs), is divided by the total number of students in the audited enrollment file. The percentage of students in each Level of Special Education is determined using the Child Count file. as well.

Student Movement

Students may enter or withdraw from a school during the school year. The diverging lines below show the rate at which students entered or withdrew from the school throughout the school year as a proportion of its enrollment at the start of the year. The net change in enrollment shows how much this school's enrollment grew or shrank over the course of the school year.

The definitions of entrance and withdrawal are consistent across all DC schools. The percentage of students entering into and withdrawing from this school is determined by dividing the cumulative number of students entering or withdrawing throughout the year by the total number of students present during the October 7, 2013 enrollment audit. A student enrolled at the time of the audit who withdraws is counted as one withdrawal. A student enrolled at the time of the audit who withdraws and then re-enrolls at the same school is not counted as either a mid-year withdrawal or entrance. A student not enrolled at the time of the audit who then later enrolls is counted as one entrance. A student not enrolled at the time of the audit who enrolls then withdraws is counted as one entrance and one withdrawal.

A student who changes status repeatedly over the course of the school year is counted according to that student's final status, such that a student cannot be attributed multiple entrances or withdrawals. For example, a student enrolled at the time of the audit who withdraws, re-enrolls and then withdraws is counted as one withdrawal. Likewise, a student not enrolled at the time of the audit who enrolls, withdraws and then enrolls is counted as one entrance.

Attendance

All students in a school benefit from a high in-seat attendance rate, or the average percentage of students in the classroom on a given day. Any absence, excused or unexcused, counts against this number.

In-seat attendance rates divide the total number of students' days present by the total number of students' days enrolled in the school.

Students' subgroup status is determined according to the rules outlined under student characteristics. DC average values for these metrics are calculated using data on all students in the city enrolled in the grade levels served by this school, as determined by the October 7, 2013 enrollment audit. Data are not shown for subgroups with less than 10 students.

Discipline

Suspension rates are calculated by dividing the total number of students with out-of-school suspensions of 1 or more full days (11 or more days in the case of long-term suspensions) in this school by the total number of students enrolled, as determined by the October 7, 2013 enrollment audit. Data are not shown for subgroups with less than 10 students. Students' subgroup status is determined according to the rules outlined under student characteristics. DC average values for these metrics are calculated using data on all students in the city enrolled in the grade levels served by this school, as determined by the enrollment audit.

Student Achievement

All students in grades 3-8 and 10 take an end-of-year test called DC CAS. Students who perform on or above grade level in a subject are said to be proficient. View the percentage of students who were proficient in mathematics and reading. Compare historical data to look at how this school's scores have changed over time. Data are not shown for subgroups with less than 25 students. This data is reported according to business rules defined in OSSE's Assessment and Accountability Manual(<http://www.dc.gov/publication/district-columbia-assessment-and-accountability-manual>). DC average values include students enrolled in all tested grades and are not specific to the grades served by this school.

Student Growth

Median Growth Percentile (MGP) is a measure of the average academic growth of students at this school as compared to students at other DC schools. MGP identifies student growth by comparing DC CAS scores of groups of students who performed similarly in the past and creating a school-wide average. Data are not shown for subgroups with less than 25 students.

MGP is based on the growth percentiles of individual students, which range between 0 and 100. A student with a growth percentile of 80/100 would be said to have done better than "80 out of 100 peers" with similar test score history. The higher the growth percentile number, the higher the student growth compared to his peers. Although student growth percentiles range between 0 and 100, MGP averages the scores of all students in a school, so schools' scores tend to cluster in the middle of this range.

This data is reported according to business rules defined in OSSE's Assessment and Accountability Manual (<http://www.dc.gov/publication/district-columbia-assessment-and-accountability-manual>). DC average values include students enrolled in all tested grades and are not specific to the grades served by this school.

Graduation Rate

The graduation rate shows the percentage of students who received a high school diploma within four or five years of entering ninth grade. The five-year graduation rate includes all students who started high school in fall of 2009 and graduated by August 2014. The four-year rate includes all students who started high school in fall of 2010 and graduated by August 2014. Data are not shown for subgroups with less than 10 students.

Graduation rates are calculated by dividing the total number of graduates by an adjusted ninth grade cohort, or the group of students who entered ninth grade four or five years before. Only students who graduate with a regular diploma are counted as graduates for the purposes of the graduation rate. All other outcomes, including General Educational Development (GED) programs and Certificates of Individualized Education Program (IEP) Completion, do not count as graduates.

The number of graduates is determined by graduate files that are certified by DCPS and PCSB. Student subgroups are determined by the October 7, 2013 audited enrollment file according to the rules outlined under student characteristics.

The number of students in the ninth grade cohort is adjusted according to uniform rules set by the US Department of Education. The initial number of students in a cohort is set at the number of students in a school who are entering ninth grade for the first time. Students who transfer into the school are added to the cohort, and students who transfer out, move to another state or country, or are deceased are subtracted from the cohort.

The cohort year is set as four years following the year the cohort entered ninth grade. The same is true of the five-year graduation rate, which is why the most recent available cohort year for this measure lags the four-year rate by one year.

APPENDIX

Attendance

All students in a school benefit from a high in-seat attendance rate, or the average percentage of students in the classroom on a given day. Any absence, excused or unexcused, counts against this number. In-seat attendance rates divide the total number of students' days present by the total number of students' days enrolled in the school. Audited students' subgroup status is determined according to the rules outlined under student characteristics. Students not included in the audit have a separate student characteristic verification process detailed in the Equity Report business rules. Data are not shown for subgroups with less than 10 students. DC average values for these metrics are calculated using data on all students in the city enrolled in the grade levels served by this school, as determined by the October 6, 2014 enrollment audit.

Discipline

Suspension rates are calculated by dividing the total number of students with out-of-school suspensions of 1 or more full days (11 or more days in the case of long-term suspensions) in this school by the total number of students enrolled, as determined by the October 6, 2014 enrollment audit. Data are not shown for subgroups with less than 10 students. Students' subgroup status is determined according to the rules outlined under student characteristics. DC average values for these metrics are calculated using data on all students in the city enrolled in the grade levels served by this school, as determined by the enrollment audit. The total number of suspensions shows the number that occurred throughout the school year to any student enrolled, even if they were not included in the audited enrollment.

The total number of expulsions shows the number that occurred throughout the school year to any student enrolled, even if they were not included in the audited enrollment. Expulsion rates show the percentage of students who were expelled during the school year. Data are not shown for subgroups with less than 10 students. DCPS schools have adopted a discipline code that only allows for expulsion in extreme cases, such as incidents of extreme violence like attacking a student or staff member. DCPS schools have the option of transferring a middle or high school student to a DCPS alternative school for disciplinary reasons, and these transfers are not counted as expulsions. Each charter school creates its own policy for determining appropriate disciplinary action. The charter sector does not currently have one designated alternative school to transfer middle or high school students for long-term disciplinary reasons.

Graduation Rate

The graduation rate shows the percentage of students who received a high school diploma within four or five years of entering ninth grade. The five-year graduation rate includes all students who started high school in fall of 2010 and graduated by August 2015. The four-year rate includes all students who started high school in fall of 2011 and graduated by August 2015. Data are not shown for subgroups with less than 10 students.

Graduation rates are calculated by dividing the total number of graduates by an adjusted ninth grade cohort, or the group of students who entered ninth grade four or five years before. Only students who graduate with a regular diploma are counted as graduates for the purposes of the graduation rate. All other outcomes, including General Educational Development (GED) programs and Certificates of Individualized Education Program (IEP) Completion, do not count as graduates.

The number of graduates is determined by graduate files that are certified by DCPS and PCSB. Student subgroups are determined by the October 6, 2014 audited enrollment file according to the rules outlined under student characteristics.

The number of students in the ninth grade cohort is adjusted according to uniform rules set by the US Department of Education. The initial number of students in a cohort is set at the number of students in a school who are entering ninth grade for the first time. Students who transfer into the school are added to the cohort, and students who transfer out, move to another state or country, or are deceased are subtracted from the cohort.

The cohort year is set as four years following the year the cohort entered ninth grade. The same is true of the five-year graduation rate, which is why the most recent available cohort year for this measure lags the four-year rate by one year.

Student Achievement

The Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC), a consortium of states including the District of Columbia, worked together to develop a set of new assessments designed to measure students' mastery of the Common Core State Standards in ELA and mathematics, in grades 3-8 and high school. These new PARCC assessments help determine whether students are on-track for college and career readiness. The District implemented the PARCC assessments for the first time during the spring of the 2014-15 school year, replacing the previous DC CAS state assessment. Readers are encouraged to learn more about the PARCC assessments at <http://preview-osse.dc.gov/parcc>. Students with the most significant cognitive disabilities took the National Center and State Collaborative (NCSC) alternative assessment instead of PARCC. NCSC measures student performance on alternate achievement standards aligned to the Common Core State Standards. Go to results.osse.dc.gov to view a school's NCSC results.

For both DCPS and public charter schools, enrollment information, including race/ethnicity, gender, English Language Learner (ELL) and economically disadvantaged enrollment is determined using the audited enrollment file. For English Language Learners, only students between the ages of 3 and 21 are included in these metrics. Schools that have been certified for the Community Eligibility Provision, which allows all students at that school to receive lunch meals at no charge, are listed as 100% economically disadvantaged. All other schools' economically disadvantaged rates are calculated using the audited file.

For both DCPS and public charter schools, Special Education enrollment is determined using the audited enrollment population and an end-of-year special education file. A student's special education level is determined by their highest level of need identified during the school year. The total number of Special Education students, counting students with Individualized Education Programs (IEPs), is divided by the total number of students in the end of year enrollment file. The percentage of students in each Level of Special Education is determined using the audited and end of year file, as well. Only Special Education students between the ages of 3 and 21 are included in this metric.

PREPARED BY: Avni Patel – Equity & Fidelity Team

SUBJECT: BASIS DC Public Charter School Special Education Onsite Visit Report and Action Plan

DATE: July 19, 2013

Proposal

The DC Public Charter School Board (“PCSB”) staff recommends that the Board discuss staff recommendations to BASIS DC Public Charter School (“BASIS PCS”) regarding its provision of education to students with disabilities. Specifically, PCSB staff recommends that BASIS PCS include three additional Action Steps in the draft Action Plan, which are detailed below; finalize the draft Action Plan by August 12, 2013; and communicate to its parents of students with disabilities its plan to implement the Action Plan. In addition, PCSB staff recommends that it conduct four check-ins with BASIS PCS throughout the 2013-2014 school year. The first check-in will be an on-site review and will occur on a mutually agreed upon date during the week of August 19, 2013. For the remaining three check-ins, BASIS PCS will submit to PCSB a written summary of the current status of its compliance with the final Action Plan and the Action Steps outlined below on the following three dates:

- September 23, 2013
- January 27, 2014

- June 30, 2014

At PCSB's discretion these remaining three check-ins may include on-site visits or requests for additional information. Additionally, PCSB will request that OSSE conduct a special education compliance audit during the 2013-2014 school year.

Background

BASIS PCS has completed its first year of operation this academic school year, 2012-2013. It currently holds a charter with PCSB, and has elected to serve as its own Local Education Agency ("LEA") for special education services. In SY 2012-2013, the school served approximately 443 students from 5th through 8th grade, 23 of whom are identified as students with disabilities as of the initial enrollment count.

PCSB received five parent complaints over the course of school year 2012-2013 regarding special education services at BASIS PCS; four alleged BASIS PCS students with disabilities were exited out of Individualized Education Programs ("IEP"s) and received 504 Plan support, and one alleged that a student's 504 Plan was not being followed. The Office of the State Superintendent of Education ("OSSE") forwarded some of these complaints to PCSB, and other complaints were presented by parents to DC Council members in a public hearing, and two came directly to PCSB.<sup>1</sup>

In response to these complaints and pursuant to its statutory authority in the School Reform Act, §38-1802.11, PCSB emailed BASIS PCS on April 9, 2013 to schedule an on-site visit, and two PCSB staff members, Avni Patel and Amanda Stefanski notified Head of School Paul Morrissey and Special Education Coordinator Keith McNamara in person of the recent complaints.

On May 15-16, 2013, PCSB conducted a two-day on-site special education review at BASIS PCS consisting of staff member interviews, file reviews of students with IEPs and 504 plans, and classroom observations.<sup>2</sup>

Of its own accord, BASIS PCS had retained the services of End-to-End Solutions to conduct a review and create a Special Education Action Plan ("Action Plan"), a draft of which BASIS PCS shared with PCSB. The draft Action Plan identifies areas of concern also noted by PCSB staff during their site visit and provides a reasonable timeline for addressing each concern.

<sup>1</sup> PCSB's internal process during the 2012-2013 school year was to only follow-up on complaints that were submitted directly to PCSB by the parent or guardian, not another government agency. Accordingly, PCSB notified the school on 10/18/2012 of a concern a parent had regarding 504 plan and the school resolved the issue. On 3/14/13 testimony was given regarding special education services at BASIS PCS during a DC Council public hearing, at which time PCSB staff notified BASIS of the live testimony. After PCSB received another complaint about special education services directly on 3/28/13, PCSB staff scheduled the on-site visit.

<sup>2</sup> The date was chosen by PCSB and the school so as not to conflict with state testing and so that a member of the Charter Management Organization's ("CMO") headquarters could attend. Director Kate Gottfredson was present during the visit.

Based on the information gathered during the review, PCSB identified three main areas of concern relating to the education of students with disabilities, which are described in this report:

- Student Recordkeeping and Tracking;
- Staffing
- Professional Development and Culture

Specifically, the following systemic observations and findings from interviews were of particular concern to PCSB staff:

- Most of the documented IEPs, as well as accompanying notes and minutes that included decisions that altered the plan or established that the services were not needed, were either missing entirely from the students' file folders or were not signed by the parent and/or the school's administration.
- The student files at the school and the files found in the EasyIEP/ Special Education Database System (SEDS) maintained by OSSE do not match. SEDS is the system of record for IEPs of students with disabilities, and it is state policy that all LEAs maintain in SEDS current and accurate records.
- Lack of a tracking system (such as service delivery tracking or log system) for special education performance and related services, such as speech and language.
- Students with disabilities were placed in a remedial classroom set up for students who are at risk of academic failure but not for students with disabilities (entitled the Targeted Intervention Program –TIP). These students did not appear to receive specialized instruction hours for reading prescribed in their IEPs.
- There was no observable evidence of collaboration between the special education teacher and general education teachers.
- Staff reported that the school had not by the time of PCSB's visit provided adequate professional development on special education issues.

Recommended Action Plan and Action Steps:

To ensure that BASIS PCS is complying with applicable law, BASIS PCS must finalize the draft Action Plan with PCSB staff recommended additions by August 12, 2013 and implement it. The additions recommended by PCSB include:

- Add to the Action Plan's existing schedule of professional development opportunities available to all faculty and staff for SY2013-2014 specific topics that address the areas of concern observed by PCSB staff. Suggested topics include:

- Embracing all learners;
  - Legal requirements of special education;
  - Child Find requirements;
  - Inclusive classrooms;
  - Implementing continuums of service;
  - Section 504; and
  - Co-teaching models.
- Add to the Action Plan the deliverable that the school will update and organize each student's confidential education files from SY2012-2013 by August 19, 2013, with the following:
    - A current and valid copy of the student's IEP with signatures from all IEP team members and parents;
    - Copies of all meeting notes with signatures from all participants,
    - Updated IEP progress notes; and
    - Copies of all evaluations and tests completed on the student.
  - Upload all records into EasyIEP/SEDS

Board Discussion

DC Public Charter School Board (“PCSB”) staff recommends that the PCSB Board discuss: (a) the implementation of BASIS DC Public Charter School’s (“BASIS PCS”) Special Education Action Plan (“Action Plan”) during School Year (“SY”) 2013-14 and (b) staff’s suggestion that it continue monitoring during SY2014-15 to ensure that the following three elements of the school’s Action Plan are fully implemented: Inclusive Classroom, SST Program and Processes, Modification/Accommodations and Differentiated Instruction for All Learners. This continued monitoring will begin with an in-person meeting with a team of BASIS PCS’s leadership and PCSB staff, where both parties will determine how PCSB staff will best collect evidence to ensure that these strategies, or other strategies identified by the school to meet the needs of its population of students with disabilities, are occurring at the school. This meeting will take place by September 30, 2014. Evidence will be collected between October 15, 2014 and May 15, 2015. Once sufficient evidence of implementation is collected, PCSB staff will immediately recommend that the monitoring end, either before or on the August 2015 Board Meeting.

Background

At its July 19, 2013 Board Meeting, the PCSB Board encouraged staff to closely monitor BASIS

DC PCS’s creation and implementation of an Action Plan for SY2013-14. The Action Plan’s goal was to resolve areas of IDEA noncompliance and ensure that BASIS PCS was providing a continuum of services to all students with disabilities thereby improving the quality of education to all students. This close monitoring stemmed from multiple parent complaints regarding BASIS PCS’s special education program, which is discussed in more detail in the July 19, 2013 Board Discussion Item (Attachment A) and the July 19, 2013 Board Meeting Minutes (Attachment B).

BASIS DC PCS was transparent and accommodating to PCSB staff throughout School Year 2013-14, provided PCSB with all of the written documentation required of the Action Plan, and welcomed PCSB staff to visit the school on multiple occasions throughout the school year (see Table 1 below). Specifically, BASIS DC PCS provided PCSB with evidence and assurance that all trainings mentioned in its Action Plan were held and, during its site visits, staff was able to see components of many of the trainings being successfully implemented in multiple classrooms, including effective behavior modification and classroom management and standards-based instruction. Staff also saw evidence that files were properly maintained. Of the 19 Action Plan Items, staff determined that all but three were successfully implemented (see Action Plan in Attachment C).

Table 1: Site visits

Date	Time	Nature of Check-in	PCSB Staff Member	Classrooms Observed
August 22, 2013	2:30pm	Scheduled – In Person	Avni Patel	Yes
March 12, 2014	9:00am	Unscheduled- In Person	Avni Patel	Yes
May 15, 2014	11:30am	Unscheduled – In Person	Avni Patel and Teri Quinn	Yes
May 16, 2014	9:30am	Scheduled - In Person	Naomi DeVeaux (with Don Soifer, PCSB Board Member)	Yes
June 30, 2014	2:30pm	Scheduled- In Person	Avni Patel	No (classes not in session)

However, over the course of the year, during both scheduled and unscheduled in-person visits (approximately 8 hours spent at BASIS DC PCS in total), PCSB staff asked to see evidence of inclusive classrooms and accommodations/modifications occurring in the classroom. As two fundamental components of this Action Plan, staff expected to observe students with disabilities receiving instructional support through co-teaching, as described by the school’s leadership, to demonstrate that these items of the Action Plan were being implemented. On each occasion that PCSB conducted in-person visits, a staff member was accompanied by a BASIS DC PCS administrator, who looked for, but was unsuccessful in finding, classrooms where PCSB could observe differentiated instruction for all learners. In the classrooms that PCSB staff did observe, teachers were not seen helping students access content through accommodations or modifications. Further, during an unscheduled visit, BASIS DC PCS staff was transparent in describing the inconsistent implementation of SST processes during the 2013-2014 school year. While PCSB received documentation from BASIS PCS demonstrating that staff was trained on the SST processes, this area continues to be another Action Plan item of concern. On June 30, 2013, because PCSB attempted to and failed to observe evidence demonstrating that all items of the Action Plan were being implemented, PCSB staff and BASIS DC leadership team discussed that PCSB would continue monitoring during the school year 2014-15 in order to see these strategies in classrooms.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> On July 19, 2014, PCSB was notified that the Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE) will continue monitoring BASIS PCS during the 2014-2015 school year with respect to IDEA compliance.

In addition, PCSB observed classrooms in efforts to conduct evidence of inclusive classroom by conducting in-person visits during the course of the '13-'14 school year. During these visits, BASIS DC PCS administrators were unable to find classrooms where students with disabilities were being supported by a special education teacher (push-in) (8/22/13, 3/12/14, 5/15/14, and 5/16/14).

<sup>1</sup> For FFY 2014 IDEA Part B Determinations, OSSE is reporting the performance of each LEA’s students with disabilities (SWD) subgroup on the Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC) and FFY 2014 National Center and State Collaborative (NCSC) Alternative Assessment. This indicator will not be assigned a weight for this year. For FFY 2015 and beyond, OSSE will use each LEA’s SWD performance on the state-wide assessments in alignment with the new accountability system that will be developed pursuant to the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, amended by the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). OSSE will provide LEAs information on how this indicator will be calculated in advance of next year’s determinations.

CHILD FIND FOCUSED MONITORING REPORT

BASIS DC Public Charter School

I. INTRODUCTION

As the state education agency (SEA) for the District of Columbia, the Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE) is responsible for monitoring and enforcing the implementation of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act of 2004 (IDEA) regulations, which includes the Child Find mandate, in all local education agencies (LEAs) and public agencies in the District of Columbia (34 CFR §300.600). Under the law, LEAs have an obligation to identify, locate, and evaluate students who they suspect may have a disability, in order to evaluate them for potential eligibility for special education services (see IDEA 2004, 20 U.S.C. § 1412(a)(3) and 34 C.F.R. § 300.111).

During the 2014-15 school year, OSSE conducted a Child Find review to determine BASIS DC Public Charter School's (PCS's) identification rate by calculating the percentage of students attending the LEA who were identified as students with disabilities and receiving special education. After careful review, OSSE found that BASIS DC PCS had identified 4.09 percent of its students eligible for special education, which was significantly lower than the District's 2014-15 identification rate of 14 percent.

As a result of the Child Find review, OSSE conducted focused monitoring activities at BASIS DC PCS to identify the causes of the LEA's low identification rate. This report summarizes OSSE's observations about the Child Find system and implementation within the LEA and makes best practice recommendations, if necessary.

II. METHOD

OSSE performed record reviews to examine BASIS DC PCS's evaluation and eligibility determination processes. A review of the LEA's written documents related to the LEA's Child Find system was also conducted. The reviewed written documents included the LEA's policy and procedures; application and enrollment materials; staff, parent and student handbooks; and documents related to Student Support Team (SST) or Response to Intervention (RTI) procedures. In addition to the record and document reviews, OSSE conducted staff interviews to gather information about the staff's knowledge of the processes for referral, evaluation, and eligibility determination for students suspected of having a disability.

III. LEA LEVEL OBSERVATIONS

OSSE used the information collected from the document reviews to determine if the policies complied with IDEA requirements regarding Child Find. OSSE interviews covered a range of topics related to Child Find such as the SST process, referral documentation for special education, and the LEA's evaluation and eligibility processes. OSSE's observations, based on the document reviews and interview responses, are presented below:

1. The staff interview responses and the information obtained from the review of the LEA's policies were consistent and demonstrated that the LEA's outlined policies were being implemented.
2. Through the interview process, OSSE was informed that the LEA had experienced challenges regarding the Child Find process due to turnover of staff, but staff stated that the challenges were resolved through the provision of training to school staff.
3. The LEA has implemented a pre-referral process which is outlined in the LEA's special education handbook. The LEA also has pre-referral documents which include a monitoring tool and intervention plan.

IV. RECOMMENDATIONS

OSSE makes the following recommendations to improve the LEA's Child Find system:

- Provide staff year round professional development opportunities that focus on the special education process.
- Maintain communication with assigned OSSE LEA monitor to review and/or resolve any special education matters that may arise.

V. NEXT STEPS

- OSSE will conduct a subsequent review of BASIS DC PCS's Child Find data to determine the identification rate and to review the implementation of the Child Find system.
- If BASIS DC PCS continues to have significantly low identification rates in the subsequent review, OSSE strongly encourages BASIS DC PCS to implement the suggested recommendations.
