PCSB OBSERVATIONS

Overall, the school's financial health did not present a concern. The aggregated three-year margin was positive at 14.2%, producing a net surplus of approximately $2.0M for FY 2018. These measures were positive, as they reflected the school's ability to maintain a positive alignment of expenses to revenues in both the current year and over the past three years.

In April 2018, the school was able to transfer $2.1M of its cash into money market and fixed income funds, which improved the school's current ratio year over year. The current ratio for FY 2018 was 9.2, well above DC PCSB's standard of 0.9.

The school's debt ratio, which essentially measures the percentage of total assets financed using debt, was 0.49 in FY 2018. The school has several long-term debt obligations including an outstanding construction line of credit balance with Eagle Bank which was converted into tax-exempt District of Columbia revenue bonds, Series 2012, issued for $10.3M in February 2012. This Series 2012 was amended in October 2014, and a new Series 2014 bond was issued to help refinance existing debt and finance construction costs. Both the Series 2012 and Series 2014 bonds are scheduled to mature in October 2044. The long-term debt outstanding decreased to $11.4M in FY 2018 from $11.9M in FY 2017.
